INFORMATION CLAUSE FOR THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA

CONNECTS-UK: Launch event London 2024

In connection with the implementation of the requirements of Art. 13 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of individuals about the processing of personal data and the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46 / EC – the general regulation on data protection (hereinafter: "GDPR"), we would like to inform you about the principles of personal data processing and your rights in connection with the processing of personal data by the Society of Spanish Researchers in United Kingdom (SRUK-CERU). The following rules apply from May 25, 2018.

1. The controller of your data is:

Society of Spanish Researchers in United Kingdom (SRUK-CERU)

Office 7, 35-37 Ludgate Hill

London EC4M 7JN, United Kingdom

Registration Number 08160501

2. The Controller has appointed a Data Protection Officer, who can be contacted at the following e-mail address: vicepresident@sruk.org.uk

3. The Controller processes your data based on applicable law, the legitimate interest of the Controller, and based on your consent.

4. Your data is processed for the purpose/purposes:
    a. the data subject has consented to the processing of his data for one or more specific purposes, based on the provisions of art. 6 sec. 1 lit. a GDPR,
    b. processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is party, or to take action at the request of the data subject before entering into a contract, based on the provisions of art. 6 sec. 1 lit. b GDPR
    c. processing is necessary to fulfil the legal obligation incumbent on the Controller, based on the provisions of art. 6 sec. 1 lit. c GDPR,
    d. necessary to protect the vital interests of the data subject or another natural person, under the provisions of art. 6 sec. 1 lit. d GDPR
    e. implementation of a legitimate interest consisting in the possible determination or pursuit of claims or defence against claims (the legal basis for processing is Article 6 (1) (f) of the GDPR)

5. In connection with the processing of data for the purpose/purposes referred to in point 4 recipients of your data may be:
    a. public authorities and entities performing public tasks or acting on behalf of public authorities, to the extent and for the purposes that result from the provisions of generally applicable law;

b. other authorised bodies and entities,

6. Your data will be kept for the period necessary to achieve the goals set out in point. 4, and after that time to the extent and for the period necessary or required by the provisions of generally applicable law or resulting from the legitimate interests of the Controller.
7. In connection with the processing of personal data by the Controller, you have the following rights:
    a. right to access personal data, including the right to obtain a copy of this data;
    b. the right to request rectification (correction) of personal data - if the data is incorrect or incomplete;
    c. the right to request the deletion of personal data (the so-called right to be forgotten), if:

- the data are no longer necessary for the purposes for which they were processed,
- the data subject has objected to the processing of personal data,
- the data subject has withdrawn consent to the processing of personal data, which is the basis for data processing and there is no other legal basis for data processing,
- personal data is processed unlawfully,
- personal data must be removed to fulfil the obligation arising from the provisions of the law.

    d. right to request the restriction of personal data processing - if:

- the data subject questions the accuracy of the personal data,
- data processing is unlawful, and the data subject opposes the deletion of data, requesting their restriction instead,
- The controller no longer needs the data for his purposes, but the data subject needs them to establish, defend or pursue claims,
- the data subject has objected to the processing of the data until it has been established whether the legitimate grounds of the controller override the grounds of objection.

    e. right to transfer data - if the following conditions are jointly met:

- data processing takes place based on an agreement concluded with the data subject or based on the consent expressed by that person,
- the processing is carried out by automated means.

    f. right to object to the processing of data - if the following conditions are jointly met:

- there will be reasons related to your particular situation, in the case of data processing based on a task carried out in the public interest or as part of the exercise of public authority by the Controller,
- processing is necessary for the legitimate interests pursued by the Controller or by a third party, except where these interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject that require protection of personal data, in particular when the data subject is a child.

8. If you become aware of the unlawful processing of your data by the Controller, you have the right to complain to the President of the SRUK-CERU.
9. Providing data is obligatory when the premise for the processing of personal data is a legal provision or an agreement concluded between the parties.
10. Your data may be processed in a traditional and automated manner, but will not be profiled.

11. The Controller may transfer personal data to third countries, i.e. to Great Britain. Your data may only be transferred to third countries or entities for which an adequate level of data protection has been determined by the European Commission. The list of countries for which the European Commission has issued a decision confirming that a third country provides an adequate level of protection can be found at this link.
    In connection with the transfer of data outside the EEA, you may request information about appropriate safeguards in this respect, obtain a copy of these safeguards or information about the place where they are made available by contacting us at the address indicated in point. 1 above.,
12. Detailed information on the processing of personal data will be published on the website available at: connects-uk.org
13. The Controller can be contacted by sending correspondence to the address indicated in point 1.
